WAR TIME IN CANADA

T. A. WRIGHT SEES SOLDIERS EVERYWHERE IN DOMINION BUT BUSINESS IS FLOURISHING

T. A. Wright, the well-known real estate owner of Glendale, returned last week from a trip through the Middle West and certain parts of Canada. He left Glendale July 10 and returned Sept. 19. During that time he saw a good deal of Canada.

"During my absence from Glendale," said Mr. Wright, "I visited among other places, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. That beautiful town is as keen on business in war time as in the days of peace. War occupies a great deal of the people's attention. Both here and in Toronto, where I also visited, I found soldiers everywhere. They were drilling, drilling constantly and walking the streets, a sober, well-set-up and evidently competent set of fine young men.

"It is astonishing to think of the ease with which Canada has found 500,000 soldiers of the best type and is ready to find as many more as they say. Patriotic citizens have equipped whole regiments or helped to equip them. In Sault Ste. Marie, on the Canadian side, and at Portal, it was the same old story of soldiers; but business is business in Canada all the same. The pulp mills on the Canadian side are running day and night. Little wonder when the manufacturers are reaping such harvests from the sale of paper. On the American side the big mills of the American Steel company were also running full blast.

"In the Middle West I visited Des Moines, Iowa, where I have a brother living. While I was there the Republican State convention was being held. Everybody was talking politics. The city was active and lively and money seemed to be plentiful. Thence I went to South Bend, Ind., where I visited a Glendale man, Mr. Pullman, who is connected with the Studebaker automobile works. He is the owner of the Fulmer building, 1114 Broadway. The Studebaker company is turning out autos in large quantities, but has orders ahead all the time.

"From South Bend I went to Toledo, Ohio, and struck that enterprising city just as the hot wave struck it. Nobody cared much for anything at that time. The humidity was extreme, so I left Toledo and went to Detroit, Mich., and thence to Canada as I have already narrated.

"From Sault Ste. Marie I returned on the Canadian Pacific railway and passed along through the wonderful scenery of the Rockies. The next time I have a chance I will take more time and visit some of the wonderful spots on the Canadian Pacific; get off at Field or some other spot and get into the heart of the Rockies.

"Through several hundred miles of the finest scenery in the world I traveled on to Vancouver and thence by boat to Seattle, which seemed active and thence to Portland, which I liked extremely. Portland is a fine city, growing yearly. The climate was fine when I was there and business seemed to be flourishing. Thence I came down to San Francisco and so home to Glendale with its lovely mountains and its equable climate.

"Comparing some of the country through which I passed just now to what I knew it to have been fifteen years ago I noticed a decided improvement. There has been a constant advance. The upbuilding of some of the cities in Canada for instance is very noticeable and in the United States even more so."

DEATH OF WILLIM PUTNAM THOMPSON

William Putnam Thompson passed away at his home on Kenneth road Thursday morning at 4 o'clock. He leaves to mourn his death a wife and two children. Mr. Thompson came to Glendale with his family from Los Angeles about four years ago and built a home near that of his uncle, L. C. Brand, on Kenneth road. The family formerly lived in Denver.

The Pulliam Undertaking company is in charge of all arrangements. Funeral services will be held at the residence Saturday afternoon. Dr. Hugh Walker of Long Beach will officiate. Interment will be in the private cemetery on the Brand estate.

COUNCIL OF CHURCH

REV. B. D. SNUDDEN DESCRIBES FORTY-FIRST SESSION OF METHODIST CONFERENCE

The Forty-first Session of the Southern California Annual Conference came to a close in Santa Ana on Tuesday morning. The gathering lasted for a week and was in some respects a notable conference. Some of the outstanding features were the fact that this was the first appearance of Bishop Adna W. Leonard as presiding officer; the presence at one of the sessions of Bishops Lambuth and Waterhouse of the Methodist Episcopal church, South: the appearance before the conference of a candidate for the presidency, the Hon. Frank Hanley, representing the Prohibition party, who made a rousing address; the remarkable address given by J. Stitt Wilson, formerly Socialist mayor of Berkeley, on California Dry; the devotional addresses by Dr. Lyman Harold Hough of Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill.; the figures showing increase along all lines, especially in gifts to missions both Home and Foreign; and last but not least in interest the number of ministerial changes.

The Santa Ana First Methodist church, under the able leadership of the Rev. E. J. Inwood, provided royal entertainment. The Methodist churches of the neighboring cities of Orange, Fullerton and Anaheim assisted in providing the noonday meal. The various churches made themselves responsible for this meal for one day, no small task to cater to about five hundred. The Rev. E. J. Inwood is a master in caring for great gatherings.

Bishop Leonard, who succeeds Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes as resident bishop of the San Francisco area, won his way into the hearts of the conference and visitors. His fair and genial chairmanship even in very trying parliamentary conditions, was always recognized. He is a man of large vision, firmness, determination, poise, a man of wide sympathies, a good preacher and a man of prophetic mould. Coming to the Episcopal office from the pastorate of the First Methodist church of Seattle, a church of over 2000 members, the bishop understands the problems of the ministry and is in entire sympathy with the preachers.

A figure conspicuous by its absence at this conference was that of Bishop Matt S. Hughes, formerly of the First Church, Pasadena. Bishop Hughes was elected to the Episcopacy last May and is now residing in Portland, Oregon.

The growth of the Methodist church within the bounds of the Southern California conference has been so great that there are now about two hundred and sixty preachers. The churches of the San Joaquin and Imperial valleys are growing in number and importance. At every conference new churches are reported from the San Joaquin valley, showing the rapid development of this inland empire.

The benevolent offerings of the churches this year passed all previous records. The total given to all causes was about $270,000. In its giving to missions and other causes the Southern California Conference is among the first in the entire country.

In the appointment of pastors there was only one change in the Glendale community churches, the Rev. H. J. Hartsell, West Glendale, goes to the Pico Heights church, Los Angeles, and is to be succeeded by the Rev. C. A. Norcross, formerly of the Arlington church, Riverside.

Dr. Charles Edward Locke takes up his ninth year of ministry at the First church, Los Angeles. Dr. E. P. Ryland of the First church, Hollywood, was appointed District Superintendent of the Los Angeles District to succeed Dr. Harcourt W. Peck. Dr. Peck will take the place of Rev. E. J. Inwood at the First church, Santa Ana, who becomes the superintendent of the new Long Beach District.

—B. D. SNUDDEN.

DEATH OF MRS. REICH

Mrs. Mary Helen Reich, of 548 Oak Drive, Tropico, passed away Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Reich, who was 36 years of age, had been in very bad health during the past three years. All the time she has been in Tropico she has been an invalid. She was afflicted with an obscure nervous trouble. She leaves a husband, John Reich, and two sons, John Lloyd Reich and Raymond Reich. The Jewel City Undertaking company has charge of the funeral arrangements.

GREECE WILL JOIN THE ALLIED CAUSE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Sept. 28.—There is little doubt that Greece will enter the war immediately on the side of the Allies. King Constantine fought strongly for continued neutrality without avail. The leaders of the nation who favor the Allies were too strong for Constantine. The majority of the principal army officers have gone over to Venizelos, the ex-premier and real power in Greece. Three Greek battleships with their officers and crews are stated to have gone over to the Allied fleet. Greek troops are now fighting with the Allies against the Germans and Bulgarians, and more are going to the front every day.

RENEWED ACTIVITY ON THE SOMME FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Sept. 28.—The French artillery is now directing its fire toward Peronne, the next great stronghold of the German front to be attacked. They expect to get in there before many days. The British advance is gradually helping to isolate the town just as was done at Combles. When Peronne falls the whole of the important railroad that leads to that section of the German front will be in danger.

BULGARIANS MAKE ADVANCE IN MACEDONIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Sept. 28.—The Bulgarians attacked the Servian line in Macedonia in a sudden rush this morning, after ten days' heavy fighting. The Servians made them pay heavily for their advance. After suffering severe losses from the fire of the Servians the Bulgarians occupied two of the Servian advanced trenches. The Servians being outnumbered fell back to the main army.

BRITISH ADVANCE MILE ON SOMME FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The British are keeping up their incessant bombardment on the Somme front today. They are attacking furiously all along the line under cover of this terriffic fire. The troops follow the curtain of fire as closely as 700 yards and the moment the fire lifts they dash forward. The Germans are fighting a slow rear guard action. Serious withdrawals on the part of the Germans are expected.

FRENCH CLOSING IN ON PERONNE

GEN. FOCH'S MEN TIGHTENING RING AROUND IMPORTANT CENTER OF GERMAN ACTIVITY

PARIS, Sept. 28.—The army of Gen. Foch is tightening its ring around Peronne, the city which the Germans are endeaporing to defend by every fortification they can devise. The defenses have been greatly strengthened and are bristling with machine guns. The German positions from Peronne to the south are now being enfiladed by a cross fire from the advancing British and French. Every village in that vicinity has been fortified and the Germans are preparing to make a desperate stand.

HUGHES BEGINS CAMPAIGN IN NEW JERSEY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 28.—Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate for president, began his campaign in this state this morning. The invasion of New Jersey is notable from the fact of Wilson's recent strength in this section. Hughes intends to address an audience of 10,000 persons at the State fair. Wilson also is bestirring himself. It was stated this morning by Democratic National Committeeman McCormick that Wilson would from this time forward put more "pep" in his campaign.

CARRANZISTAS DESERT TO JOIN VILLA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Sept. 28.—Carranzista troops are joining Villa from all over the State of Chihuahua, according to dispatches received here this morning. It was stated that the latest desertion took place at Moctezuma. Gen Trevino has not been able to hold some of his men since the Villa raid on Chihuahua.

GLENDALE HIGH

FIRST MEETING OF ROSTRUM SUCCESS—PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES LAUDED

Many interesting and hard-fought matches of tennis are being played these evenings on the High school courts, in the course of the tryouts for the class teams. Everyone is invited to see these matches as well as the interclass matches, which will probably start next week. Outsiders who enjoy seeing a good game of tennis will do well to take advantage of this opportunity. The opening date of the inter-class matches will be announced at a later date.

Several new members were initiated into the boys little play-club known as the T. O. C. yesterday, at noon. Following the performance none of those initiated could have been persuaded, however, that there was anything play-like about the stunt. Members of the faculty seem to consider this noon-time diversion extremely childish for High School students, and the lid is expected to be shut tighter than ever in the near future.

A trolley excursion on Saturday, October 7, is being planned for the benefit of art enthusiasts from this section who wish to visit the Ehrich Loan exhibit of Spanish "Old Masters," now being held at the famous Mission Inn, Riverside, California. This collection embraces famous works by the most renowned Spanish artists of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, such as Carreno, Goya, El Greco, Ribalta, Zurbaran, Ribera, Coello, Lucas and Murillo. Never before has such a collection of Spanish masters been shown west of New York.

The regular fare to Riverside is $3.50, but if enough will sign up with Miss Muller of the High school art department the very low excursion rate of $1.70 can be secured. This will mean a great saving to those who plan to take advantage of this unusual opportunity.

The first public meeting of The Rostrum was a grand success. Those who were not on hand at the school auditorium yesterday afternoon missed a rare treat, when six speakers addressed an enthusiastic audience on various topics.

The first speaker introduced by Mr. Samuel Durand, who presided over the meeting, was Mr. Root, debating instructor. Mr. Root, in his easy manner, made an excellent introductory speech, touching upon The Rostrum, and its work. All credit for Glendale's consistent showing in the field of debating and oratory is due Mr. Root, whose persistent work has turned out many a good debating team for Glendale High.

Mr. Joy, also a member of the faculty, and who is deeply interested in this line of work, spoke forcefully on the advantages of being able to express one's ideas before an audience. Mr. Joy's remarks were right to the point, and he cited numerous examples to substantiate his contentions on the importance of public speaking, the encouragement of which he declared to be the purpose of The Rostrum.

The main features of the program were the presidential stump speeches. Harland Durand took for his subject, "Why I am for Wilson." He pointed to the many unusual difficulties which the present administration had had to face and lauded the manner in which these extraordinary problems had been handled. He then showed that Hughes was the candidate of the moneyed interests, and declared that if Hughes were elected he would do just what the capitalists want him to do—intervene in Mexico. Just what a wonderful thing Wilson has done in keeping the United States out of war was also brought out, much to the delight of the Democrats present. Mr. Durand closed by asking: "Shall we trade horses in the middle of the stream?"

Herbert Scheuner next spoke on "Who's Hughes?" (say that aloud). That the United States is now hated by every nation on the globe, was the statement of Mr. Scheuner, who declared that he was a Republican, always had been, and always would be. The "foolish diplomacy" of Woodrow Wilson was declared to be the cause of all this trouble. "They have bamboozled us for four years, and we should not stand it longer," said Mr. Scheuner. He pointed to the administration's "wabbly Mexican policy" and declared that Hughes would have stood firm; he said that none of the Democrats' promises had been fulfilled, and that the pork-barrel had occupied most of the time of Congress during the

SONS OF VETERANS

N. P. BANKS CAMP ENTERTAINS POST AND CORPS AT AN OPEN MEETING

Before a large and appreciative audience consisting of members of the G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps and their friends, N. P. Banks' Camp, Sons of Veterans, held an open meeting at the G. A. R. hall, Tropico, Tuesday evening, that enhanced its enviable reputation for entertainment. Under the able direction of Commander R. M. McGee, a program of excellent quality was presented that met with instant approval. Miss Florence Chadwick opened the program with several beautiful piano selections and was followed by Mrs. H. Dana Goss, the accomplished reader, who delivered two readings of exceptional quality. Dr. P. O. Lucas, accompanied by Mrs. W. M. Crawford at the piano, charmed and delighted his audience with two vocal solos. Dr. Lucas possesses a voice of rare quality and being in good voice was heartily encored.

Comrade R. D. Goss, who claims no distinction as a violinist, but says that he can "fiddle a little bit," made good his boast when he tucked the instrument under his chin and treated his hearers to a bit of old time fiddling that soon had the feet a-going and the hands applauding.

A comedy sketch, presented in full make-up by Melvino and Westwood, members of the camp, was a really clever piece of work and brought forth many laughs. Concluding the program Division Commander Jos. V. Griffin was called upon for a few remarks. Mr. Griffin as usual "had nothing to say," which means that he talked for about fifteen minutes on preparedness and the Coast Artillery, interspersing his remarks with Irish stories told in his inimitable way.

After the program a banquet was served in the large dining room. This meal was prepared and served by the members of the camp and was of such quality and quantity that the diners were loud in their praises. During the course of the meal it was announced that this date marked the forty-ninth anniversary of the marriage of Comrade and Mrs. R. D. Goss and as both were present they were loudly cheered and congratulated all around.

This was the first of a series of open meetings to be held by the camp this fall and winter.

MRS. EVANS COMPLIMENTED

Mrs. Ben F. Logan entertained Wednesday afternoon at her home on Virginia avenue with a card party in honor of her cousin, Mrs. W. E. Evans of Glendale, California, who is her guest, says a recent copy of the Pineville, Kentucky, Citizen. Five tables engaged in the game of 500. The prize for highest score was won by Mrs. E. R. Clayton. Consolation prize was won by Mrs. Tilman Ramsay. Decorations were of purple asters and ferns. As guest of honor Mrs. Evans was presented with a handsome prize. The guests were: Mesdames W. E. Evans, W. Ray Patterson, R. W. Johnson, R. E. Samuels, Tilman Ramsay, W. C. Bingham, J. H. Jeffries, George Reese, J. T. Metcalf, George Fitz, E. R. Clayton, A. A. Hermese, S. G. Gray, R. M. Watt, W. J. Cunningham and Misses May Bingham, Mabel Osborne, Roberta Ellwood, Caroline Cox, Elizabeth Metcalf.

AT THE KALEM STUDIO

The Kalem company is busy at present with the production of "The Son of Cain," a thrilling western romance of the Jesse James type. There will be stage holdups and scenes of marvelous escapes, all taken in the romantic spots around Glendale.

"The Girl From 'Frisco" has been received with so much appreciation throughout the country that it has been decided to add two more scenes to it. These will be staged as soon as possible. The play itself will be shown in Glendale at the Palace-Grand, within a short time.

Miss Marin Sais, the Kalem star, met with a peculiar accident the other day, when riding on horseback, in one of the scenes of "The Son of Cain." At an exciting moment the bridle slipped off her horse and struck her in the face with considerable violence, breaking her nose.

Mr. Davis is working with great diligence on the arrangements for the production of his great "chute" scene, in the course of which the hero escapes in a chute car.

Ed Lynch and family of Damasco Court returned Thursday morning of this week after a thousand mile auto trip through the Northern part of the State.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1916

IRRIGATION FOR THE DESERT

One of the most beautiful promises of the Old Testament is that which says that the desert places shall be glad, which promises the restoration of the wilderness and the solitary place to their former condition of cultivation; when "instead of the thorn shall come the fir tree and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree and it shall be to the Lord for a name for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off." As divine power works by human means when it pleases it is little wonder that this country has been favored with the sight of the gradual winning back of the desert places of California and Arizona and other arid lands by means of the life-giving water.

Little wonder that to this day in the streets of Cairo or Constantinople one may hear the pious native who sells water out of a huge skin, calling out his wares by the cry "The gift of God; the gift of God." Those who have witnessed the transforming power of water on the desert can appreciate the pious sentiment of the devout Mohammedan.

At this moment in the arid valleys of the great southwest water has been found at no great depth and its advent has made the wilderness bring forth all manner of fruit and flower, tree and vegetable, grain and tuber; its valleys once the home of naught but the rattlesnake, the road-runner or the land turtle, are affording life to numerous flocks and herds and bring forth several crops of alfalfa every year.

Wherever water has been applied to the desert, whether brought from a distance or found on the spot, a great and glorious transformation is immediately brought. One can see such spots all over the arid lands now. Land that could not be given away at a dollar an acre at one time is now easily worth $100 and often a great deal more for the same area.

This is a great work. The big Roosevelt dam will shortly be rivaled by the Elephant Butte dam in the wonderful work it will accomplish. It is a stupendous mass of masonry and it cost $10,000,000—the cost of a warship. This gift to the nation, however, gives back in a few months all that it cost and keeps on each year adding to the profits it bestows on the nation. It costs nothing in human life; no one is made unhappy because of it; no one weeps. On the contrary this wonderful work brings happiness and joy to thousands now and will continue these blessings to thousands upon thousands yet unborn.

It is surely worth while being thankful that this nation is occupied with such works as this while the people of Europe are compelled to go through the throes of war to be permitted to live in some kind of sensible way. When blood is being poured out like water on the stricken fields of Picardy, Champagne, the Dobrudja, and Galicia, the United States has had leisure to grow and to take the money now being sent to this land by Europe and to devote it to works of reclamation and conservation.

Under the light of this wonderful work that has been going on quietly and insensibly throughout the land for some years past the people of the United States need not look far to see how their native land came to acquire the title of "God's country."

ARGENTINA FORESEES DIFFICULTIES

Argentina is a notably advanced republic in South America. Its capital Buenos Aires, is a salubrious city, of the most modern and beautiful type. Its public buildings are finer than one could expect in a country of 7,000,000 people. Indeed there is no more progressive city than Buenos Aires in the whole world.

Just at present Argentina is contemplating somewhat ruefully the approaching presidential election. It is expected that Hipolito Irigoyen will be made president. He is a profound financier and views with some alarm the conditions that may be produced in his country by the cessation of the European war. Irigoyen is credited with studying up means and methods by which his country may be saved from ruin when the world is once more thrown open to the competition of the battling nations of Europe.

Irigoyen is living at present in Buenos Aires. He is said to be attended by an ancient Spanish dame, who guards her treasure as jealously as the dragon did the golden apples of Hesperides. Even the most exalted personage is not able to see the dame's precious charge except through the permission of the duenna.

All this time Irigoyen is devoting himself to the study of the financial problems that await his country when the war in Europe is at an end. Just at present money in Argentina is in an excellent condition. The country has one of the largest gold reserves, proportionately, in the world. How long this condition will last is not known.

Irigoyen is believed to hold that the financial problem that will shortly confront Argentina will be solved only by immigration. Therefore it may be expected that there will be many excellent and liberal offers made to prospective settlers from the United States and elsewhere. The country needs population. Its available agricultural territory is as large as the whole basin drained by the Mississippi and the Missouri and yet it has only a few people to handle these possibilities.

Land is wealth; but land without population is only latent wealth. It needs population to be added to the land to make it active and wealth-producing. So Argentina will invite the world to come to her vacant lands and settle down.

One of the serious problems in California is the question of forest fires. During the present season the region around Glendale has seen several fires of destructive proportions for which the district will pay a heavy toll in floods when the wet season arrives. There fires are undoubtedly preventable. It is reported that some of the most destructive of these fires were caused by careless campers, others by tramps, others by teamsters throwing lighted matches into the brush. From whatsoever cause the fires may have arisen they were undoubtedly dangerous and were only subdued after a very hard fight, and after much destruction of property had occurred. It is very hard for people to lose the houses they have built and the crops they have grown through the carelessness of a passerby. Year after year the same warning against starting forest fires and brush fires is given and year after year the fires come from the same old causes. It is surely necessary that some of the careless hunters and campers should be severely punished and valuable timber and homes saved. The Forest Service of the United States and the settlers have been co-operating toward this end with the result that some of the culprits have been brought to punishment.

GLENDALE GARDEN SOCIETY

Annual fees of the Glendale Garden society are now due for the financial year October 1916 to October 1917. The fees are 25 cents, such a small sum that everybody will pay cheerfully and promptly,—such a small sum that everybody in Glendale can afford to join the society. Nowhere exists an organization which gives so much to its members and to the public. Last year four stereopticon lectures, all free, were given; monthly meetings were held; members worked hard on the Floral Float sent by the city of Glendale to the Pasadena Tournament of Roses; a plant exchange was maintained; 2000 bouquets were presented to the poor of Los Angeles, and a monster Free Flower Show was successfully carried through, a show which attracted over 5000 visitors, and which proved the most wonderful advertisement Glendale has ever seen. To be a member of such a wide-awake society is surely worth 25 cents a year. For this coming season even greater achievements are being planned. A monster Birdhouse contest has already been launched, sixteen prizes offered for the best birdhouses. Watch the papers for announcement within a couple of days of silver cups to be offered in floral contests. And don't forget to attend the opening lecture of the season, a free stereopticon talk on "Birds of My Garden" next Thursday evening, 8 o'clock sharp, at the High School Auditorium.—NANNO WOODS.

FREE STEREOPTICON LECTURE

On next Thursday evening, October 5, Mrs. Harriet William Myers, secretary of the California Audubon society, well-known clubwoman and author, will give an illustrated talk entitled, "Birds of My Garden," at the High School auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock sharp. Mrs. Myers lives in the Arroyo Seco, surrounded by her bird friends. She has written many charming books upon birds of this locality, and is a frequent contributor to magazines and newspapers. Most of her stereopticon slides have been made from photographs taken by herself.

This lecture will be given under the auspices of the Glendale Garden society and is free to the public. Young people entering the monster Birdhouse contest would doubtless find many interesting pointers in Mrs. Myers' talk, while farmers and all interested in agriculture will learn how it is that birds are really such friends to the farmer, and benefit the country to such an extent that were we deprived of birds we would be deprived of all crops. At this meeting will be awarded the prizes gained by members of the Bird and Flower club during the summer months.

Everybody cordially invited to attend this lecture. The Glendale Garden society gives everything free. It exists for the good of all.

TO ACQUIRE CHURCH LOT

At a meeting of the church council of the First Lutheran church, held last night at the residence of the pastor, the Rev. R. W. Mottern, it was decided to take the necessary steps at once for the acquisition of a lot at the corner of Fifth and Maryland, for the purpose of building a church. The church trustees and Mr. R. Z. Imler were intrusted with the negotiations. The quarterly reports showed that the mission had made remarkable progress during the past year.

RELIABILITY IN BUSINESS

The man who engages in business intending to make that business a life work, should use great care in dealing honestly with his patrons. If there is any one thing that builds up a business it is a reputation of the manager or owner of that business being dependable. Buyers are ready to pay a reasonable price for that which they wish to purchase if they are real sure that the quality is what it is represented to be.

The average buyer is not familiar with the quality and values of the articles he may wish to purchase. In many instances the dealer's opinion is depended upon, and thus the necessity of a dealer being strictly honest in giving his opinion. Some of the oldest and most reliable business houses in the large cities of this country are enjoying the patronage of men and women who have traded with them for many years and during all that time never have those dealers been known to misrepresent the merchandise offered for sale.

For a customer to lose faith in the truthfulness of a merchant is a great misfortune to that merchant. The habit that some merchants have of recommending as first class goods which are inferior is one that will surely work for the downfall of these merchants. The old adage, "Honesty is the best policy," should always be practiced.

Boys had been seen lurking about the school premises about the time the wheels were missed. George H. Brewster, a clerk in the city hall, recently had a fine Columbia wheel stolen from the front of that building. In neither case has it been possible as yet to find trace of the thieves.

last four years. He asked, "Why a war tax, but no war?" He described Wilson as a demagogue, an academic tyrant, and a cheap politician. With this he turned upon the Socialists whom he declared to be dynamiters and bomb throwers which, he said, was proved by their alliance with labor. The Prohibitionists, he declared, are making a mountain out of a mole hill.

"Everybody for Benson," was the title of Marion Lehman's talk. Mr. Lehman is an ardent Socialist, and he attacked militarism in real socialistic style. When he was sure that every member of the audience was opposed to militarism he declared that both Hughes and Wilson were in favor of it. This contention he backed by referring to the public declaration of both these candidates. Mr. Benson, the socialistic candidate, was eulogized and his platform defended. Capitalism was declared to be the greatest menace to our nation, and Socialism pointed to as the only way to relieve the situation. Among other things Mr. Lehman said that the laboring man does not receive all he earns. He declared that the few exploit the interests of the many, and that this will always be true as long as a Republican or Democratic president hold office. Br. Benson he declared to be the candidate of the working man; Hughes and Wilson the candidates of Wall street in their "Punch and Judy sideshow."

Berna Martin was the last speaker on the program, but in point of size, as well as in the quality of his oration, he was not least. Mr. Martin ably handled the subject, "Handly—The Presidency—and Prohibition." He quoted from the Kaiser, the following statement: "The army which drinks the least will win the wars of the future;" and with this start he aroused the interest of everyone in the audience. The Democrats, Republicans, and Socialists, he said, have kept quiet on the subject of prohibition, to get the whiskey vote, while the Prohibition party has declared itself on every national issue. Many of those present were surprised to hear the twenty planks of the party platform, only one of which is prohibition. It was very evident from the speaker's arguments that he had made a very close study, not only of the liquor question, but also of the other national problems of the day. In closing the afternoon Mr. Durand fittingly remarked that he did not see why everyone present should not regard every candidate as an ideal man for the job, after all the praises that had been given.

PACKER'S AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Stephen C. Packer, candidate for supervisor, left Glendale in his touring car last evening about 4:30 to drive to Los Angeles by way of the San Fernando road. He was accompanied by Charles Shattuck of 821 S. Central avenue, and Miss Squires, Glendale reporter for the Los Angeles Times. When near the entrance to the Forest Lawn cemetery an automobile owned by the Pacific Light and Power company driving in the opposite direction made a quick turn in front of Mr. Packer on Oxford street. Mr. Packer pulled his machine to the right and into the curb to avoid colliding with the Pacific Light and Power Co. auto, but failed to get out of its path as the front of that machine struck Mr. Packer's auto midway between the front and rear, tearing off the footboard and disconnecting the battery. The other side of Mr. Packer's machine came in contact with a water hydrant, greatly damaging that part of the machine. No one was seriously hurt although the occupants of both machines received a right live shaking up.

CONGREGATIONAL ATHLETICS

The Congregational Athletic association, in connection with the First Congregational church, held its yearly business meeting, at the church parlors Wednesday evening. The report of the year's work was made and discussed. It showed that the association was in a good condition financially and that it had had an excellent season. Plans for the next year were made. The following officers were elected: Blake Franklin, president; Miss Carol Hoff, vice-president; Mrs. H. W. Yarick, secretary-treasurer.

RETURN FROM VISIT IN MIDDLE WEST

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lucas Smith, 305 N. Adams street, returned Sunday from a visit to Kansas City and Des Moines, Iowa. They found much interest in their visit to Kansas City, where Mr. Smith, who is 83 years of age, marched in the ranks of the veterans, whose numbers are diminishing with marked rapidity. Notwithstanding this depletion of the ranks there was a well-attended encampment.

From Kansas City Mr. and Mrs. Smith went to Des Moines, Iowa, where they visited their daughter, who is principal of one of the big schools of that city.

BENEFIT READING CIRCLE

Yesterday's meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle was made particularly interesting as the coming of another "Circle Baby" was announced. This baby is the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Maranville, little Louis Jerome, born Sunday, Sept. 27th. As the mother has been a regular attendant at the Wednesday meetings, much interest centers in the coming of this little one. Little Ruth Elizabeth Dimick, who is the first "Circle Baby," is now nearly three months old.

Another very interesting feature was the reading of a letter received last week from Miss Lombard, Secretary of the National Bureau of Education. This letter praises the work done by the Circle. It has been decided to print a full report of our Circle for distribution to those contemplating the formation of circles in other localities throughout the United States, as the Bureau authorities consider that the Mutual Benefit Circle has done excellent work and has been carried on in an ideal way.

Reading of "Freedom Within the Law," was continued yesterday. Thirty women attended, with three visitors, Mrs. Herman Nelson, Mrs. J. H. Southard, and Miss Gies.

EAGLEDALE

Little Miss Marian Vale Lerchen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lerchen of 115 Ellis avenue, celebrated her eighth birthday Wednesday and in honor of the occasion entertained several of her schoolmates of the Eagledale school. Mrs. Lerchen and the little hostess were assisted in entertaining the guests by Miss Amber Young, Master Llewellyn White and Master Frank Lerchen. About twenty-three were present and it is needless to say that they had a happy time. Blowing soap bubbles and hunting peanuts were among the diversions of the afternoon and the usual birthday party supper was served including a birthday cake with candles.

LA CRESCENTA

La Crescenta Pharmacy

On Saturday, Oct. 14, the La Crescenta Pharmacy will celebrate its opening day. The proprietors, Wolf and Son, extend an invitation to the public to call and inspect the drug store on this day and incidentally to enjoy a free dish of ice cream. Also a limited number of tins of Vogue face cream will be given away to customers.

The Pharmacy is entirely up to date, embodying an elegant soda fountain, full line of drugs and chemicals, toilet articles, candies and cigars.

Miss Florence Bruce has commenced taking violin lessons in Los Angeles. Her teacher is organizing a class in La Crescenta so that pupils may take lessons here without going to Los Angeles.

A garage was recently built on Mr. Escalles' place to house the machine of Mr. Culbertson, who is renting the house. The work was done by Mr. Wise.

Pictures shown at the Auditorium next Tuesday evening will be a dramatization of a part of the story, "Relief of Lucknow," entitled "The Campbells Are Coming." Also a reel of scenes from Siberia will be shown.

Leland Wise purchased a new Cleveland motorcycle this week. He will use it on a long paper route which he is carrying for the Los Angeles Times.

It is rumored that the Glendale-Montrose Railway is negotiating to extend the electric line to their rock quarry above the Sierra Verdugo Water Co. wells. The line will be extended straight along Montrose avenue and work is expected to start in a short time if a favorable contract can be made by the railroad company.

The Weber cottage has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. Wolf, who expect to occupy it indefinitely.

Cuddledoon, the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas, was opened to a number of their friends last Friday. Mrs. Thomas poured tea for Mr. and Mrs. Nettleton, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bissell, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Memford, Mrs. Carl Adams and Mr. Fritz Adams.

Painters are busily at work putting the finishing touches on the school building this week.

Invitations are out to a country dance to be given this evening at the school house. Mr. Harvey Bissel is the host. A merry time is in store for those who attend.

Conditions of business in real estate for the past month have been steadily improving, according to Mr. R. A. Walton of the Holmes-Walton Co., who reports the sale of the northwest corner lot of Montrose and Los Angeles avenues, at the end of the car line, and recently the sale of two business lots and one residence lot in Montrose.

Mrs. Bruce, while at Brookside Park in her machine recently, met with a slight accident by having another machine run into her front wheel.

The Ladies' Aid, the right hand of the church wherever found, met last Tuesday. The members took part in a discussion, led by Mrs. Rhinechild, on ways and means for church support. The methods suggested will probably be put into effect in La Crescenta.

Does Your Liver "Play Hob" with You?

THE liver is one of the most used—and most abused—organs in the body. It is blamed for many things for which it is not responsible—and receives only half the credit due it. It performs a number of important functions of which we know—and, perhaps, many others of which we don't know.

Its chief function is to secrete a fluid known as bile. This passes on to the intestines where it acts as an antiseptic, cleansing the intestinal tract of dangerous body poisons.

Now—when one leads a sedentary life—when one is not over-careful of his diet—when one is inclined to alcoholic excess—or when the internal organs do not receive the natural stimulus required—the liver lags in its secretion of bile; the bile ducts contract and hinder the passage of this fluid to the intestines and—what do we have? That depressed, sickish feeling and listlessness commonly associated with "bilious attacks" and the "blues".

What is needed in such cases is not a powerful drug to prod the liver into temporary activity—but a course of treatment designed to promote the eliminative functions of the body—quicken the abdominal circulation—and a diet specially adapted to this condition.

And now that you know all this—where is the sense in letting your lazy liver "play hob" with you?

TUJUNGA

In the awarding of prizes last week at the Harvest Home Festival Mrs. J. H. Frost's name was omitted, through a mistake of the judges. Mrs. Frost had on display a fine basket of quinces, the first raised in the town of Tujunga and for which she was awarded second prize instead of Mrs. Dunning, who had no quince on display but who received prizes for other products. We are glad to correct the error.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barkley of Greeley avenue had as their guests last Sunday a number of relatives and friends, among them Mr. and Mrs. Mauk, Sr. Four generations of the family were represented. Mrs. Mary Henry of Tropico, aunt of Mr. Barkley, Mr. and Mrs. Barkley, their two daughters Mrs. Lulu Mauk and Mrs. Frances Wroble, and little Sarah Marie, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mauk of Los Angeles. The occasion was the double christening of Mr. and Mrs. Mauk's daughter and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Crooks of Verdugo Park. Rev. W. H. Dieman, officiating clergyman, and Mrs. Wieman and Mrs. Laura Pitts of Tropico were also guests at the family dinner that followed the ceremony, which took place at Bolton hall at the close of the Christian Federation services Sunday morning.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jones, who are occupying the John S. McGroarty cabin, have been enjoying several delightful auto trips, one to the Antelope valley, another to Riverside, where they took luncheon at the Mission Inn, and still another to Sonoma. Mr. Jones is administrator of several estates, the business of which necessitates many trips from home, which are always shared by Mrs. Jones, thus they unite business and pleasure.

Miss Zoe Gilbert was in the city last Monday on business intent. She was sworn in as deputy registrar of this district, in place of Mrs. Marston, resigned. Only a few days remain in which to register.

The mail is now delivered by auto at the local postoffice, which insures a much earlier delivery than heretofore. This makes it possible for our people to get in their business orders to the city so that they may be filled and returned by the next day. This fact will be greatly appreciated by all concerned.

Boosters' Club

The Boosters of Tujunga had an interesting meeting last Saturday evening. It was decided to meet regularly hereafter every first and third Saturday evening of the month. Committees on membership reported new names and some of the new members were present. It was thought to be a wise move to advertise for someone to open a place of business, perhaps to purchase the little business already established, and cater to the public in the way of a restaurant and keep supplies of ice, gasoline, oil and other staples appropriate to a wayside inn, for the mutual benefit of the public and the proprietor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Steen visited this week at Ontario, the guests of Mr. Steen's eldest brother.

Early Saturday morning shortly after midnight Mr. Marston of Sunset boulevard was taken very dangerously ill. Dr. Kearney called Dr. Conrad of Glendale to assist and after consultation it was decided to remove Mr. Marston to the hospital in Los Angeles, where there are all facilities for his care. Dr. Kearney and Mr. Mott Marston, son of the patient, accompanied him. After their arrival is was decided to try other treatment than an operation, which it was at first feared might be necessary. When Dr. Kearney left the hospital he was resting quietly and some hope is entertained for his recovery. Mrs. Marston is at the bedside of her husband.

Mrs. J. E. Carr and son Charles Ashby, of Laguna Beach, are spending the week-end with Mr. Fred M. Ashby, father of Mrs. Carr.

Mr. W. H. Malona spent last Monday in Los Angeles attending to business.

Last Monday evening representatives of the different boards of trade of the valley met at La Canada and decided to organize the different boards into a federation. P. J. Blake was appointed chairman and Mr. Johnson of La Canada secretary. A committee consisting of P. J. Blake of Tujunga, Mr. Johnson of La Canada, Mr. Nettleton of La Crescenta and Fred M. Ashby of Tujunga, also Mr. Rowley of Sunland, was appointed to draft a set of by-laws to be considered at the next meeting, which will probably be held Thursday evening, October 5, at La Crescenta. Those representing Tujunga were P. J. Blake, Fred M. Ashby, J. B. Green, J. T. Ward, Dr. Buck and Charles W. Dean.

Last Monday evening Mr. George I. Maxwell very generously distributed among his friends in Tujunga samples of real, genuine venison. Mr. Maxwell had been hunting in Tuna canyon and succeeded in bringing down a fine deer weighing 150 pounds. Those receiving some of the deer meat pronounce it delicious.

Town Meeting

For Wednesday afternoon, it was announced there would be a meeting in the interest of temperance at the home of Mrs. Percy, near Sunland. A speaker from Los Angeles was expected. A general invitation was extended to the people in the valley.

There seems to be a spirit of optimism throughout the community, so says Mr. Ashby, who is probably in a better position to judge of this matter than anyone else in the town. It was announced that Charles M. Frey, editor of "Hotel Alexandria Topics," would be present in all probability and deliver an address at the town meeting next Tuesday evening. In a few words Mr. Ashby voiced the sympathy of the entire community for the Marston family, in the extreme illness of Mr. Marston, and a hope for his recovery.

The matter of fuel for the club house during the coming season was introduced and ways and means for securing a supply was discussed. Mr. Ashby and Mr. Darlington volunteered their assistance. The subject of the maintenance of the hall was spoken of at some length and ways for raising the necessary funds were discussed. There will probably be a charge of $ 5.00 for the use of the hall for all entertainments charging admission and for all dances. The committee has the matter under advisement and will soon be ready to make their announcement.

Some discussion was had concerning entertainments. Mr. C. H. Clark intimated that it might be possible to secure the Danish Musical club, which appeared here early last spring. The matter was left in charge of Mr. Clark.

Mrs. Faxon of Long Beach is a guest at the McKee cottage for a week past. Mrs. Faxon has been here before and in all probability will come again.

Mrs. Fred Johnson is at her home again on Pine street, after a refreshing vacation of about a month spent at Rose Hill, Los Angeles.

Sneak thieves are abroad. Better lock things up before leaving home. Lock the barn door before the horse is stolen is good advice to heed.

Mr. Joe Forester will go away next week with the same party of surveyors that he has been working with for some time past. We understand their work takes them into Arizona this trip.

Mrs. Lyman Maxwell and daughter, Miss Louise, have been called back to Illinois to the bedside of Mr. Maxwell, who is very ill at their old home in that State. Lyman, Jr., and his grandmother, Mrs. Miller, are in Los Angeles, where the family have been living for some time. This family was among the first to settle in Tujunga.

Mr. Copeland of Los Angeles, who used to live on San Ysidro road, is in Tujunga this week camping on Michigan avenue.

THE TITLE "ENGINEER"

It is unfortunate, according to the Engineering Record, that in America most people associate the word "engineer" with a man who runs an engine or a boiler. Even the man who operates the boilers of an apartment building is called an "engineer," although the name is entirely a misnomer when applied to him. He may be a good mechanic, but he is not an engineer. The gray haired man who drives the locomotive of a transcontinental limited and who holds the lives of hundreds of human beings in his care belongs to the very highest type of mechanic, but he is not an engineer, except in the United States and Canada. All foreign languages have words that properly designate the work these men are doing. In our country there is no word to distinguish them from the bridge builder, the sanitary expert, etc.
